Linda King discussed the new NJMAA website. Trying to make blogging the norm when a member needs to ask a question of the membership. If you need information about blogging, contact Linda she will send it to you.

Bob Pispecky thanked the membership for names of new teachers for the February workshop. He also reminded membership that they must be registered for the Job Fair if they wanted to participate. This is a good opportunity to screen possible candidates. He requested that the members placed their job openings on line so a list can be created. The lines have been long because candidates are on lines for positions that they are not qualified.
